Alicia Sieben has been with Schwebel, Goetz and Sieben since 2007. Before joining the firm, she worked in the Washington County public defender's office and as a paralegal with the law firm of Sieben, Polk, LaVerdiere, and Dusich. Aside from her professional pursuits, Ali has taken considerable time to give back to the community. She taught English as a second language in Hastings, MN and Denver, CO area schools. She has volunteered for numerous humanitarian organizations including; Habitat for Humanity, Meals on Wheels and Mission Mexico where she helped build homes for the needy. Ali's compassionate nature gives her a unique perspective when dealing with people injured in serious accidents.
