Jessica Servais joined Schwebel, Goetz & Sieben in 2016 and brings with her experience and compassion when helping those who have suffered injuries. She received her undergraduate degree in English from the College of St. Benedict. Jessica then went on to the University of St. Thomas School of Law to obtain her Juris Doctor in 2007.

Since 2010, being of assistance to people in their time of need is what Jessica enjoys the most. She has dedicated her practice to representing people who are experiencing one of the worst situations in their life. Jessica considers it a privilege helping people obtain the compensation they are entitled to when the odds are stacked against them.

Jessica's practice focus includes all aspects of personal injury litigation including car and truck collisions, motorcycle crashes and general liability cases.
